TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH 13, 1877. DEFERRED ARTICLES.

Hayes' Speech at Columbus.

At the Columbus depot, on Thursday, while awaiting the departure of the train which was to bear him to Washington, and in obedience to calls from the vast crowd in attendance, Gov. Hayes spoke as follows:

"My Fellow-Citizens: I appear to say a few words in bidding good-bye to you. I understand very well the uncertainty of publie affairs at Washington. I understand very well that possibly next week I may be with you again to resume my place in the Goverernor's office and as your fellow-citizen, but I also understand that it is my duty to be at Washington prepared to assume another position, higher and more responsible, and with more difficult duties. "I have thought as I looked upon this great audience, and as to-day I gazed on the people who thronged our route to this depot, of a similar occurrence sixteen years ago .-A little less than sixteen years ago I marched down High street with a thousand men to pass to the East and the South to do what we could to restore the Union of the States and to re-establish the authority of the constitution. [Cheers.] In that work we were eminently successful, so far as it was possible to be successful by force of arms. I am not here to say a word in disparagement of what was accomplished by the brave men who went out with me from different parts of the country. Of my comrades one-third never returned to their homes. They perished in the discharge of their duty that the republic might live. But there was something force could not do. We would have our Union to be a union of hearts; we would have our constitution obeyed not merely because of force that compels obedience, but obeyed because the people love the principles of the constitu-

ion. [Long continued applause.]
"And to-day, if I am called to the work to which Abraham Lincoln was called sixteen years ago, it is under brighter skies and more favorable suspices. [Applause] I do hope, I do fervently believe that by the aid of Divine Providence we may do something in this day of peace by works of peace towards reestablishing in the hearts of our countrymen a real, a hearty attachment to the constitution as it is and to the Union as it is." [Long continued applause, which was only stopped by the approach of a locomotive, which moved slowly down to take the car away.]

COUNTY ITEMS - From the Shepherdstown Register we copy the following items: Hon. A. R. Boteler is in Philadelphia attending a meeting of the Executive Commit tee of the Centennial Commission. J. C. Bitner has purchased the farm belonging to Mr. A. S. Dandridge, adjoining Kearneysville, containing 250 acres, for $30 per acre. Frank Billmyer, son of Mr. David Billmy er, accidentally cut his knee with an axe, on the 21st instant, inflicting a very severe, though not supposed dangerous wound. On Wednesday last, Mr. Adrian Jones was engaged in burning over a clearing, when the fence between his property and that of Mr. John W. Holliday took fire, and about sixty panels were destroyed. Josic, daughter of Mr. Wm Deck, was making a fire in a stove at the residence of

Mrs. Woltz, in this place, on Monday morn lng last. Although painful, her injuries are not considered dangerous. John Clemm and Charles Wright were ar rested on Saturday last, and brought before Mayor Ferrells. Clemm was charged with resisting officer Cameron, and carrying concealed weapons, and was held to bail for his appearance at the next Grand Jury. Wright was fined $2.50 and cost. Mr. Justice Strong, one of the three partisan Judges who hold that stolen goods belong to the person in whose possession they are found, was called upon a little more than two years ago to deliver an opinion in the case of Jackson against Ludeling, brought before the Supreme Court on appeal from the United States Circuit Court for the district of Louisiana. In this case a railroad, the Vicksburg. Shreveport and Texas, had been stolen from its owners by a combination of rascals, headed by Ludeling, the infamous Chief Justice of the Louisiana carpet-baggers. The conspirators had acted from first to last in ac cordance with the forms of Louisiana law, and the robbery, shameful as it was, had been confirmed by the lower court. Mr. Justice Strong, however, decreed a reversal of the judgment of the court below, holding that technical legality was no protection for a transaction essentially and notoriously fraudthe forms of the law, but he went straight | given. to the real facts and exposed the fraudulent nature of the transaction, characterizing it as "a great wrong, perpetrated by the agency of legal forms."

COTTAGE HEARTH .- The March number of the Cottage Hearth glistens with good things for fireside reading. Each department is well filled with appropriate matter-the whole forming a combination in which every member of the family-young or old-may find something to enjoy and profit by. Subscription $1 50 a year. Published by D. L. Milliken, 101 Milk st., Boston.

THE KANAWHA GAZETTE .- Such is the title of a new paper recently established at Charleston, in Kanawha county-J. B. Pemberton editor and proprietor. The Gazette is neat and attractive in its "make-up," is conducted with ability, and will no doubt deserve a successful career.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Largest Farm in the World.

The Colusa (Cal) Sun gives to its readers a lengthy description of the farm of Dr. Hugh J. Glenn, in Colusa county, California, said to be the largest farm in the world. At the request of one of our farmer friends, we chinery, buildings, etc. give the following extracts from the sketch of Dr. Glenn's estate: Dr. Glenn owns all the Jacinto Grant, extending from the mouth of Stony Creek four spanish leagues down the river, and two leagues back from the river, and a portion of the Larkin's children Rancho, adjoining the above on the South, making a total of 55.000 acres. This farm has a river front of 161 miles in a straight line, and more than twice that by the river. There's about 150 miles of fence on the place. The lower half of the farm is all rich alluvial land; the upper half is level prairie land but red, and contains, in places, some gravel, but it is all the finest quality of wheat land. In addition to extensive farming mentioned below, Dr. Glenn has 16,000 sheep, 300 of them imported; 250 head of cattle, 20 of distributed to the population of that city 9,- them imported, besides all his horses and Dr. Glenn made his first purchase of 7,000 acres on the Jacinto grant on the 25th of November, 1867, at $1.60 per acre; and a short time after he purchased about 7,000 acres more, together with a lot of stock in a lumping trade, and after disposing of the stock, the land cost him less than his first purchase. He then kept on buying "what joined him" on either side until he absorbed all the Jacinto grant and a large portion of Larkin's Children's Rancho. As land advanced in price, he paid more. So that for his present farm he paid all the way from $1 60 to $30 per acre. Last year Dr Glenn farmed about 15,000 | the United States; he is now ninety-two, and acres himself, and rented some 10,000 acres | filled a preaching appointment for his son, each to Geo. W. same Bayless. He has shipped this year 18,000 tons of wheat. Mr. G. W. Hoag rents this year 15 000 acres of the Glenn farm. He employs 280 work horses and mules, and has, of course, harness for used 11,293 packages, valued at $5,626,299. each. In seeding, he employs 50 men-in harvest, 225. Mr. Hong's machinery consists in part of 41 gang plows; 30 eight mule harrows; eight-mule cultivators; two seed sowers; 4 Buckeye drills; 17 headers; 85 wagons; 6 mowers; 1 48-inch separator, 36 feet long. severely burned about the side and arm, while 13 feet high when mounted; 1 40-inch separator; 1 36 inch separator. Mr. Hoag saved out of his last crop 10,000 sacks of barley for seed and feed, and 5,000 sacks of wheat for seed, of 135 pounds each. The whole farm will use about 2,000 tons of hay

during the season.

We give for the benefit of many of our read ers who are not familiar with such a scene the following brief description of the threshing: First the "circle" is made. It is the starting point in the field where the machinery is placed. The "circle" is made by the headers in advance of the separator and engine. After the grain is cut from the "cir cle." which usually embraces a space from 1 to G acres, the separator and engine are drawn in and the work of threshing commences. The working force to run the machine is 56 men. 7 headers, 21 header wagons, 96 horses or mules. The average run of the machine is 1.700 sacks, containing 24 bushels each per day. The utmost capacity of the machine is 3.000 sacks, or 6,750 bushels per day. The harvesting force cut and thresh simultaneously, and in fifteen minutes from the time the header begins in the grain, the wheat is in the sacks. They cut from 100 to 125 acres of grain to a "setting."

K Gupton cultivates 10,000 acres on the Glenn farm, 3,360 acres of his own just west | said that it was four feet in circumference, of Dr Glenn's, and a large farm-something and weighed almost 80 pounds. He was of like 5,000 acres, we believe-in Tehama county. Mr. Gupton employs in this county 45 or 50 men in seeding, and over 100 in harvest. He has horses, plows, seed sowers, a few weeks of his death. He was never ulent. He did not then refuse to go behind | etc., about in proportion to Mr. Hoag's above Isaac Bayless cultivates 7,000 acres on Dr.

Glenn's farm and 3,500 acres on Butte Creek. Dr. Glenn will only seed about 9,000 acres this season himself, and will therefore employ 40 or 50 men in planting, and about 100 in harvest. The average yield of wheat on the place last season was 25 bushels to the acre, the average of barley, 30 bushels. They grow only what barley they use on the farm -ship pone. - Gen.
